Skid-mounted Boilerplant

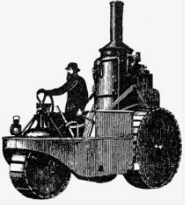

Our compact, skid-mounted boilerplant packages offer the ideal solution to customers looking to make the most of available space. There are also other benefits, such as cutting down on on-site installation time, as the majority of the installation can be done at our premises, leaving just the final connecting up work to be done to complete the project.

Containerised Boilerplant

More and more companies are choosing to install containerised boilerplants because they have great space-saving and re-sale potential. We pride ourselves on the quality of our boilerplants from design through build and installation, choosing the correct layout to suit a client's requirements and enabling easy access for routine maintenance and day-to-day operations. We have recently added the production of Biomass Steam and Hot water boiler packages to our range.

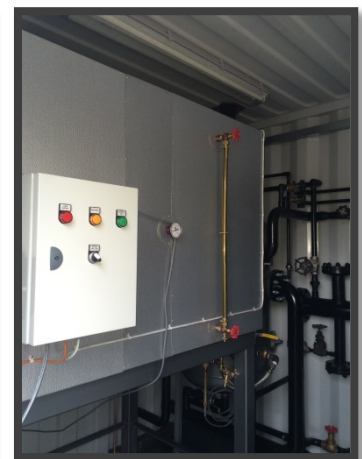

"I have to admit that when I was told that the installation would take three days from start to finish I was a bit worried. True to your word, however, the work was completed on time causing very little down time."
